- a He feels grateful that there are no more unhappy widows and parents to talk to, and happy because the job has been successfully completed.
b He feels unhappy about having to solicit clients, but excited about being $33 million richer.
c He feels anxious and disgusted with himself for soliciting clients on the phone, but excited about the money he will make.
d He feels proud to see an article about himself, and happy that the article will be good for his business.
e He feels a little guilty because he thinks that he owes Tequila something, but he isn't sure what.
f He is impressed with French's wealth and lifestyle, but unsure about whether to accept French's offer.
g He feels happy because, on Pace's advice, he buys back shares in Ackerman Labs and makes a large profit.
h He is not interested in Crittle's anxieties about the firm's finances, and is even more eager to spend money (on a private jet).
i He is excited about another tort case and even more money.
j He feels sad and lonely because Rebecca is getting married and he still misses her.

The King of Torts

- e Patton French is encouraging Clay not to worry about the angry Dyloft clients.
- f Max Pace is talking to Clay about Maxatil.
- g Max Pace is talking to Clay about Dale Mooneyham.
- h Clay is explaining to Max Pace why he has not told French and the other lawyers about filing a lawsuit against Goffman.
- i French is talking to Clay about the case against Goffman.
- j Dale Mooneyham is telling Clay why he dislikes mass tort lawyers.
- 15 Possible answers:
Max Pace obviously trusts Clay enough to make a lot of money, but probably only uses Clay because Clay's inexperience leads him to take bigger risks than other more experienced lawyers.
Patton French seems to admire Clay's bravery, but probably does not think that Clay shows enough good judgement.
Dale Mooneyham has no respect for Clay or other tort lawyers because he thinks they are greedy and their actions will make it difficult for plaintiffs in the future to sue big companies.

- 18 Possible answers:
- a Clay is worried because none of the other lawyers on the Dyloft Plaintiffs' Guidance Committee have decided to sue Goffman. They think that it would be too difficult to prove a link between Maxatil and breast cancer in court.
- b The owners of the Hanna Portland Cement Company cannot meet Clay's demand for settlement. Clay, worried about his Maxatil cases, cannot afford to reduce his demands.
- c Clay has no problems with Rebecca. He is happy because her marriage is in trouble, and he sees a real possibility that they might eventually get back together.
- d The FBI visit Clay twice. On their first visit, they want to know about Max Pace. On their second visit, Clay is forced to lie to them about his shares in Ackerman Labs.
- e Rex Crittle, Clay's accountant, informs Clay that their insurance company is cancelling its cover because it is worried about the twenty-four thousand Maxatil cases.
- f Ted Worley and other Dyloft clients begin to develop life-threatening tumors. They hire a lawyer, Helen Warshaw, to sue Clay for behaving unprofessionally and for having provided them with very inadequate financial settlements.

- 23 a Joel and Marcus Hanna, because Clay refuses to reduce his demands for a settlement.
- b Clay, because he has just received a lot of bad publicity in the press after Ted Worley and other Dyloft clients sue him.
- c Dale Mooneyham, because Clay has told the press how many Maxatil cases there are, which does not help Dale Mooneyham's case against Goffman.
- d The men who attack Clay cover Clay's car with cement from the Hanna Portland Cement company.
- e Jonah, because he finds the contrast between Clay's public reputation as one of the country's most successful lawyers and his present situation, wrapped from head to toe in bandages in a hospital bed, amusing.
- f Clay, because Rebecca and Ridley are staring at each other angrily across his hospital bed.
- g Dale Mooneyham, because Mooneyham unexpectedly loses his case against Goffman.
- h Helen Warshaw, the angry Dyloft plaintiffs' lawyer, refuses to settle with Clay outside of court.
- i Ridley, probably because she loses interest in Clay after he loses all his money.
- j Paulette and Rodney because, without him, they would never have made enough money to live the lives they wanted.
- 24 Possible answers:
- a Angry and disappointed, because Clay breaks his contract with them and they will not be receiving the compensation from Goffman that he promised them.
- b Quietly satisfied that one of his main competitors has failed.

The King of Torts

- c Sympathetic, but probably more worried that now he has to find another job.
- d Sympathetic, because Clay gave them the chance to earn a lot of money.
- e Angry, because there is no money to repair their houses.
- f Happy, because she loves Clay and now they are together again.
- g Glad to be out of his life after he loses all his money.
- h Angry and wanting revenge, because Clay made a lot of money out of the Dyloft settlement but didn't get her husband, now dead, a fair settlement.
